Medinah Temple Elects Swanson as Chief Rabban

Antioch Man, Active in Shrine, Masonic Circles, Is Honored

Fred B. Swanson of Antioch was elected Friday evening to the office of Chief Rabban at Medinah Temple, largest Shrine in America. This is the first time this office, next below that of Potentate, has been conferred on a Lake county Shriner.

Swanson was also elected representative to the Imperial Council of the Shrine.

As Chief Rabban of the Temple, Swanson is also an officer in one of the bodies of the Consistory, of which Gov. Green is a fellow officer.

Gen. Douglas McArthur is a Shriner of long standing, and at this meeting the Medinah members simultaneously made him an honorary member of the Chicago temple and approved the purchase of another $20,000 war bond.

Long active in Masonic circles, Swanson was instrumental in the organization of the Lake County Shrine club and has been its president since its founding in 1935. He is also a high officer in the Red Cross of Constantine, a select Masonic organization.

Antioch civic affairs have always been of great interest to Swanson during his long residence here. He is owner of the Antioch Theatre and other theatrical enterprises throughout Illinois.

The Observer

What we wanna know is, can a mouse chew chewing gum? Anyways, one of the boys left a stick of gum out in the shop the other day—and in the a. m. when he came to work, most of it was gnawed away. "Sa new idea for bait. We offer it for what it's worth, and hope we don't get stuck with it. . . . Ya, we know, it's kind of a corny joke, but as we have oft observed, Observer readers kin take it.

Well, we can't say as how the weather seems to be getting warmer—but there are times when it threatens to be not quite so cold.

Believe it or not—the ones who complain there ain't no young men around aren't so much the girls—but the fellows who come home from the Army or Navy for a visit, and find all their chums gone.

Looks like the stock is trying to counteract some of the damage wrought by Ol' Man War. We see, on scanning the headlines and fine print that—New York, Jan. 23—The stock had its busiest year in the nation's history in 1942, delivering at least 2,800,000 babies.

Although the number is greater by at least 200,000 than the previous U. S. record for newborn infants—2,600,000 in 1921—the present birth rate of about 25 per 1,000 population registered in the first World War, says statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

The increase, despite a decline in the per capita rate, is due to the growth of the total population they explained. Another factor the statisticians considered is that the lives of babies and mothers are far safer today than they were 25 years ago.

Out of 1,000 babies born alive in 1917, they said, approximately 95 failed to survive to their first birthday anniversary. Today, however, deaths in the first year of life number about 45 per 1,000 live births—a decrease of more than 50 per cent. There has been a similar decrease in deaths of mothers.

Selective Service Registrants Asked to Contact Draft Board

Selective service registrants who may not have their local board records in order and who have been designated as suspected delinquents were warned today by Colonel Paul G. Armstrong, State Director, that the law clearly places upon the registrant the duty of keeping in touch with his local board at all times. He also pointed out that men who have had a deferred classification for a stated period of time and have failed to report to their local boards at the expiration of this time will run the risk of being considered delinquents if they do not immediately report.

The following men, registered with Selective Service Local Board No. 3, 17th and Park avenue, North Chicago, are being asked to report immediately to the board for correction of records: Donald John Matheson, Waukegan; Walter Asa Blalwin, Lake Villa; Delbert Edward Radke, General Delivery, Waukegan; Edward Walter Paske, General Delivery, Waukegan. Time to Help

The right of any business to advance by the initiative of its owner or management, operating on a competitive basis, has given this country a merchandising system that is now of incalculable value to consumers in money saved, and in the greater variety and better quality of products and merchandise offered.

Retail stores never before faced such problems as today. Securing goods for distribution requires expert knowledge, foresight and an understanding of laws and regulations heretofore unheard of in this nation.

There is one request that merchants now make of all consumers: Between now and the time full war rationing takes effect late in February, don't hoard. The merchants ask this because they are co-operating with government to the utmost to avoid disruption of consumer supplies. Merchandisers, no matter how efficient, cannot distribute products that don't exist. Lend-lease and military demands have made deep inroads on supplies of all kinds. It is up to the consumer to cooperate in dividing what is left.

There Is a Difference

Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, after returning from his grueling experience in the South Seas and his inspection of fighting fronts, is the only man who has said what the American people needed to hear in connection with production problems. In the newspapers and in the news reels he said that if the soldiers could be transferred from the hell holes they occupy on the battlefronts, to our factories, and if the employees in the factories could occupy the battlefronts, production in this country would double in thirty days.

By the tone of his voice and his expression, you could see that he was disgusted with the Pollyanna talk about workers at home being classed as filling "battle stations."

Captain Rickenbacker emphasized that nothing the people in this country can do will in any measure equal what the boys on the battle lines are doing. They don't get overtime pay and they work day and night if necessary.

The people agree with Captain Rickenbacker. Just because some of us wear "tin hats" at home, we don't want to become swelled up with the idea that we are filling "battle stations"—we are not. Battle stations are where the bullets fly and men are dying; where men work as long as there is something to do; where orders are obeyed; where overtime pay and profits are not an issue; and where the perpetuation of liberty and freedom for the individual are the guiding stars.

Eating Crow

An article in the Shreveport, Louisiana, Times of December 29, shows one reason why tens of millions of taxpayers are digging deeper into their purses today to find the money to pay Federal taxes.

Hundreds of millions of dollars have been poured into government-owned electric power plants to duplicate and compete with the private electric industry, although that industry has never failed to meet the requirements of this nation.

The heaviest industrial demands of war have had to be met by it without delay and at low rates. This in itself proves that the private power industry is capable of necessary expansion. The article in the Times is further proof.

Down near Hot Springs, Arkansas, ten power companies in several states pooled their power resources to supply a new government aluminum plant. They had the reserve power and there would have been no cost to the government for construction work.

But the Rural Electrification Administration insisted on building a line, with taxpayers' money, from the Pensacola dam on the Grand River in Oklahoma, to the government aluminum plant near Hot Springs, at a cost of some $4,000,000, to carry about one-third of the load—the excuse being that otherwise there would have been insufficient power for the plant, although existing companies had agreed to handle the whole load.

On December 25, the REA line broke down. The interconnected power from the private companies automatically took up the additional load and prevented interruption in the aluminum company operations, which would have meant the loss of more than a million pounds of aluminum, or material for 150 bombers.

This proved that existing companies were able to carry the load as they claimed, while serving other customers. It demonstrated the superiority of interconnected systems which do not depend on a localized source of supply. It also illustrates how taxpayers' funds are being dissipated by unnecessary government spending which discourages and destroys taxpaying industries which have always been the strength of this nation in peace and war times.

They Were Ready

American doctors have been criticized for bungling the medical manpower problem. The incongruity of the criticism is apparent when it is realized that it comes from the same sources that have at least helped to bungles manpower in every activity. The food problem is becoming critical, due largely to lack of manpower; transportation, mining, manufacturing, processing and distribution are all seriously handicapped by the manpower problem. And in none of these undertakings have the needs of the military drawn as heavily on manpower as in the field of medicine.

It is a dead certainty that if the medical men had been no better prepared for war than those who now criticize them so loudly, the medical situation would indeed be serious. Long before there was much thought of war coming to this country, the doctors were mobilizing their resources. When war came they knew almost to a man the number of doctors available to the home and military fronts. They met the requirements of the military front. They are now in the process of meeting the requirements of the home front.

Admittedly, there has been hardship in some areas. Emergencies have arisen. Tempers have been frayed. But the background of American medicine has given it the tools to do the job. That background is freedom; the tools are the same tools that enabled American industry to outproduce the world in twelve months. They are the tools of competence, integrity, and faith—faith in the ideals of individual opportunity that have made this the greatest nation on earth.

Divided They Fall

Surrounded by big government, big business and big labor organizations, the farmer who tries to struggle along by himself today is rather helpless. He finds agencies on every side telling him what to do, what not to do, when he can do it, and when he can't do it.

Planting a crop, milking a cow, raising a hog or selling a steer have all become acts which virtually require a lawyer's advice.

So today more than ever, a farmer needs the help of cooperative marketing organizations. He needs the advice of experts. Acting individually, he is sunk. Acting collectively, he can compete with the power and the influence arrayed against him.

It is up to the farmer to solve his own problems by intelligent action through his own farm organization speaking for him.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

American flyers with the RAF are raining demolition bombs on Nazi cities today. These instruments of destruction so important in razing Nazi war plants, interrupting railroad transportation, and other war objectives, range now unto several tons.

The 500-pound demolition Bomb is one of the lighter ones. Bombs are attached to facilitate handling and the fins are not attached until the Bomb reaches the airfield, because bending would injure accuracy. They cost up to $500. Your purchase of War Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan will help provide Bombs for our airmen. Let's "Top that Ten Percent."

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago
(Released by Western Newspaper Union)

JESUS THE GREAT PHYSICIAN

LESSON TEXT—John 5:2-17.
GOLDEN TEXT—Wilt thou be made whole?—John 5:6.

Hope of the hopeless, help of the helpless—who would that be, but Jesus? Coming to Jerusalem for the feast He did not seek out the homes of the mighty, the places of learning and culture, but took himself to the Pool of Bethesda, where there lay a multitude of them that were sick, blind, halt, withered. Why did He go to such a place? Because He always had compassion upon those in need.

In this multitude He saw at once the neediest man of all—one without friends or loved ones to care for him, despondent and disheartened. What happened that day may well encourage the heart of every sad, lonely, and discouraged one.

We see three things here.

I. Helpless Infirmary (vv. 1-7).
How weak and helpless is humanity. Oh, yes, we seem to be strong, capable, fearless, but only until we meet some great elemental problem. Then we see that we are indeed a great multitude of impotent folk. The gently falling snow stopped the undefeated Napoleon. The silent fog can paralyze a nation. Sickness, death—who can stay their hand? We need the steady and powerful grip of God upon our lives if we are to go through such experiences. Not only was this man ill and weak, but his long years of suffering had made him so accustomed to weakness that he had reached a state of despair.

Such an attitude invites defeat. It may be the only recourse of the man of the world, but with Jesus standing by to help, there is good reason for assurance of faith in the darkest hour.

In the face of his need—yes, even in the light of Jesus' provision for that need—the leaders of the Jews could only criticize.

II. Heartless Religion (vv. 10-13, 15-16).

Jesus had done for the man what the Jews had not been able to do; in fact, one wonders whether they had so much as lifted a finger to help this poor sufferer. But now that he was able to walk, they were greatly concerned about the violation of their Sabbath day restriction against any work.

Instead of shouting for joy that this man was able to carry not only himself but his bed, they became zealous about maintaining the letter of their law.

Are there not those in our day who would be greatly disturbed if the deathlike quiet and dignity of their church services were to be broken by the cry of a new born babe in Christ? Would a revival be welcomed in the great churches of America which have lost the savor of Christ and the power of the gospel? We think not.

The man who had been healed answered well (v. 11). He did not know who Jesus was, but he knew that if He had authority to heal, He also had the right to tell him to carry his bed. When we meet Jesus we will be healed of our infirmities and, like this man, be delivered from the fear of cold ecclesiasticalism.

But let us turn to the heart of our lesson, which is the act of Jesus in giving him.

III. Healing of Body and Soul (vv. 8, 9, 14).

The body of this man was miraculously healed. There was no partial improvement, no long drawn out convalescence and regaining of strength. In fact, he was told to do something which called for the full vigor of a healthy body, to show that he was healed.

Even so when we are healed from sin it is not to a half-dead existence, but to the full vigor of spiritual life. We are to arise and walk in the power and grace which Christ has brought into our lives.

Note that the miracle performed here was for the glory of God. The miracles of God are not mere marvels or wonders. They are not for the advancement of the cause of any man or for personal glory. They are the mighty signs of an omnipotent God wrought for the good of men, for their spiritual enlightenment, and as a testimony to the one true God.

So in this case Jesus found the man in the temple to admonish him to continue steadfast in the spiritual liberty which had come to him "lest a worse thing befall" him.

Evidently this man's infirmity had been caused by sin, and even though he had suffered those 38 long years the tendency toward sin was still alive in his heart. Sin dies hard. How often have we not seen those who have cried to God out of their affliction, promising all sorts of spiritual changes if God will deliver them. When He does, they go right back to their old ways. The one who does that may well be looking for the "worse thing" which will surely befall him.

A 'Murder' Dwindles Down to Lost Nickel

BOSTON. — Patrolman John Barrett was certain, from the anguish in the woman's voice telephoning for help from a theater, that nothing less than a murder had occurred. Investigation showed she had put a nickel in a drink vending machine but that the bottle hadn't popped out. She got her nickel back.

Woman Wins Fame As Antique Queen

Now Is Authority on Early American Furnishings.

BANGOR, MICH. — Are you interested in antiques, but too busy to do much more than talk about them? Read, then, what a country doctor's wife did with the same interest. Nearly 25 years ago she ran across some furniture of Civil war days. She brought it home and went after more. She's still at it. Now Mrs. Kathryn Murphy is a recognized authority on early American furnishings and owns a furniture display depicting the home life of Americans during the war years from colonial days through the First World War. She is known as "the antique queen of America."

Her display, dressed up by the use of wax figures wearing authentic clothing of each period, includes a colonial parlor, an imperial parlor, a Victorian parlor, dining room, bedroom and kitchen; a Civil war parlor, bedroom and kitchen; a gay nineties parlor and bedroom and a World War I parlor. Each room is complete from rugs on the floor to knickknacks on the whatnot shelves. The Civil war kitchen even has a bootjack for grandfather to use in removing his shoes.

A treasured object is a Franklin stove, built by Benjamin Franklin himself. Mrs. Murphy says there is only one other stove in existence and it is in Henry Ford's museum at Dearborn.

As Mrs. Murphy's collection grew she conceived the idea of arranging complete period rooms. With financial assistance from Dr. D. L. Cole, a Bangor dentist, she started her room-by-room collection. Three rooms that she furnished for the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago established her reputation as "the antique queen of America."

Too Old for Service, But He Assists Army

SELFIDGE, FIELD, MICH. — A 73-year-old mechanic and blacksmith, too old for combat service but eager to serve his country, is helping the army air forces to keep 'em flying at Selfridge Field. But that's only part of the story. In addition—

He commutes daily from southwest Detroit, 30 miles one way, 60 miles round trip—by bus, by street car transfer to Eight-Mile Road and Gratiot, and thence in a friend's automobile through Mount Clemens and on to his anvil and forge.

He invests 10 per cent of his salary in war bonds—$50 every three months.

He's helping organize an all-soldier field-faith theatrical cast, calling upon his production experience gained in vaudeville troupes and on World War I camp stages in France.

Alfred M. Frothingham is his name. He and his wife, Hattie, reside in Detroit at 1721 18th street. They've been married 25 years.

Was Obligated to Answer Queries Put by His Wife

TULLAHOMA, TENN. — They had been married only two months but she had him where he had to answer every question—and correctly too. How much do you make? What size shoe do you wear? Do you have any children? These were but a few of the questions Mrs. Virginia Dunkleberger, 20-year-old inductee interviewee, asked husband Austin when he appeared before her at Camp Forrest after his induction into the army. "I felt weak at the knees when I saw him sitting across the table from me," the wife-interviewer said, "but he's I-A in the army and I'm as proud as can be." The couple lived at nearby Winchester and both had worked at Camp Forrest before Dunkleberger joined the army; the husband as a clerk in the quartermasters office and the wife in the induction office.

Dog Is Severe Critic Of Reception Center Band

MINERAL WELLS, TEXAS. — It's an outworn gag for a creative artist to call his wife his "best friend and severest critic."

At Camp Wolters, the best friend and severest critic of the Reception Center band is a 14-month-old dog.

His ear for music is infallible, assert the musicians. He howls if someone strikes a sour note, or if an instrument is off pitch. But if the band is performing smoothly, "Johnnie" curls up between the drummer and the first trumpet player and goes to sleep.

Johnnie, whose ancestors apparently carried democracy to extremes, thinks any one in uniform is O. K. As for civilians—he used to chase them away from recitals of the band, but now he's learned that they must be tolerated.

Make your gas range work better...conserve cooking heat

Here are some easy ways to save in your kitchen!

Flame

Set your gas flame for the job required, not beyond it. A high flame does not hasten cooking—it only wastes gas.

Cooking utensils

For top-of-stove cooking, a pan with straight sides is better than a bulging one. Duplicate or triplicate pans which fit together over a single burner cook several foods with little fuel.

For oven cooking, use dull-finished casseroles and pans. Polished metals reflect some of the heat they should absorb.

Preheating

When preheating the oven, leave the door open two or three minutes to prevent condensation. Broiler should be preheated to high temperature before placing meat on tray. When the oven broiler is not in use, remove the tray or place it on the lowest rack.

Note: Do not use oven for room heating.

Cleanliness

Dirt, food, acids and stains from boil-overs tend to shorten the life of your gas range. When food spills in the oven, cover it with salt and after oven has cooled, wash away with soap and water. Oven racks may be cleaned with steel wool and scouring powder, aluminum burners with aluminum cleaner, cast iron burners with soap or scouring powder. Clean enamel top surface with soap and water. Don't attempt to clean while surface is hot.

Waterless cooking

Use the "waterless method" in cooking vegetables. Pour in a small amount of water, bring it to a boil and then turn the burner down to the simmer point. Result: you save cooking heat, retain the valuable vitamins and minerals, get better looking, better tasting food.

Nutrition

Plan menus and shopping lists in advance, according to the recommendations of the National Nutrition Program. You'll not only get more nutritious food for your family, but you will also save time, work and money.

"Truth" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 24.

The Golden Text was, "Teach me thy way, O Lord; I will walk in thy truth; unite my heart to fear thy name" (Psalms 86:11).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "He that speaketh truth sheweth forth righteousness; but a false witness deceit. There is that speaketh like the piercings of a sword; but the tongue of the wise is health. The lip of truth shall be established forever; but a lying tongue is but for a moment. Deceit is in the heart of them that imagine evil; but to the counsellors of peace is joy" (Prov. 12:17-20).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Divine Mind rightly demands man's entire obedience, affection, and strength. No reservation is made for any lesser loyalty. Obedience to Truth gives man power and strength. Submission to error superinduces loss of power. Truth, Life and Love are the only legitimate and eternal demands on man, and they are spiritual lawgivers, enforcing obedience through divine statutes" (p. 183, 184).

Notwithstanding the extreme cold weather, slippery streets, and almost impassable roads, attendance at the worship service last Sunday was above the average. Following the general program of preparation for our "Week of Dedication" beginning Feb. 28, and closing March 7, the sermon subject was "Unfinished Business." Cited as spiritual "unfinished business" were: important moral questions undecided, personal spiritual problems unsolved, vows made but unkept, known sins unrepented, and evil habits unbroken. More important than these is the "Unfinished Business" of personal dedication to Christ. This should include dedication of one's substance, services, and self. Of these "self" is the most important. In John 17:19 Jesus, praying for his disciples, said "And for these I dedicate myself." Every Christian should make this prayer his own. Among the "these" of the present day should be listed: missionaries, suffering humanity across the sea, needy fields at home, unchristian neighbors or members of one's own family, the youth of our community, Sunday School classes without teachers, the sick and shut-ins, not forgetting our men and women in the armed forces as well as our state and national leaders. Each of these, and many more, should be made objects of special personal dedication following the example of Jesus, "And for these I dedicate myself."

Thirty-five have signed the "Personal Covenant" to pray God's blessing on the "Week of Dedication." Next Sunday a five-minute Lay Address will precede the sermon. We invite you to join in this spiritual crusade by your presence at, and participation in our worship service at 11:00 A. M. next Sunday and every Sunday.

Set February 6-14 as Mobilization Week for State 4-H Clubs

The week of February 6-14 has been set by U. S. Extension Director M. L. Wilson, as National 4-H Mobilization Week. This is a week when all attention is to be focused upon 4-H club work; the activities, progress, and goals set in club work.

The state of Illinois is attempting to double its 4-H enrollment in 1943 and that means that Lake county needs every farm boy and girl in its clubs, according to Ray T. Nicholas and Helen Volk, Farm Adviser and Home Adviser. There are a number of good reasons why every farm boy and girl should be a 4-H club member. Some of these are listed below:

1. Produce and conserve food for our families and our armed forces.
2. Maintain morale in home.
3. Have a place to obtain constructive and regular recreation.
4. Develop into a well rounded citizen able to take an active part in community life.
5. Learn farming skills by actually carrying on a 4-H project.

Each club leader will make a special effort during this period to contact every boy and girl in his community who is not a member and see that they have an invitation to join and also are given information about the club program.

Civil Service Offers Free College Courses

Opportunity to go to college at government expense, and aid in the war effort at the same time, is offered to high school graduates with courses in mathematics, physics or chemistry and some college training or practical experience in the physical sciences.

Qualified applicants for positions as under engineer trainee in radio research work will be paid at the rate of $1440 a year plus overtime during a 24-week training period at the University of Illinois. Pay will rise to $1620 a year plus overtime (approximately 22 per cent of base pay) upon satisfactory completion of the training period. The place of duty will be Dayton, Ohio.

Persons employed in full-time war work of equal skill should not apply. Further information may be obtained from the Seventh U. S. Civil Service Region, New Post Office Building,

CAR OWNERS URGED TO SALVAGE OLD LICENSE PLATES

Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes this week issued an appeal to motorists to turn in their old license plates at salvage depots throughout the state where they will be collected for conversion into steel that may be used in the war effort.

Each pair of license plates weighs about a pound and contains vital metals. Salvage boxes have been placed at garages and filling stations throughout the State.

Secretary Hughes pointed out in his appeal that it is as simple a matter to put the old plates in a salvage box as it is to put them in a corner of the family garage. He also asks that motorists to look over the garage, gather any license plates for former years, and drop them at a salvage depot to swell the total contribution to the scrap drive.

Seventeen-Year-Olds May Register for Navy Aviation Cadet Studies

Seventeen-year-olds may now apply for Navy pilot training through a new program that is to go into effect immediately, it has been announced by the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board in Chicago, as preparations are being made to handle this group which was not eligible for enlistment in the Navy Air Force under the previously required minimum age of 18 years.

Youths eligible through the new plan will be required to receive a recommendation from their high school principal or college administrative head before being permitted to take the Naval aviation cadet examinations. On passing these examinations they will be sworn in immediately but will not be called to training before they reach their 18th birthday and have been graduated from high school.

Murphy Experimental Farm Sold to Frank Sebek of Cicero, Ill.

What is said to be the largest cash real estate deal ever negotiated in Northern Illinois was completed this week when Frank Sebek of Cicero, Ill., purchased the Murphy experimental farm at Pleasant Prairie at a price reported to be $45,000.

The sale included 90 head of registered purebred cattle, several purebred Belgian horses and 204 acres of farm land.

E. Elmer Brook, Antioch real estate broker represented both parties.

Avoid Poultry Crowding
Many problems result from crowding of birds in the poultry house, say poultry specialists. They urge, instead, that poultrymen select only sound pullets for future layers and grade according to maturity and development to eliminate the hazard of crowding.

White Amaryllis
White amaryllis, showing only a faintest tinge of the usual red and pink coloring, was the feature of the recent amaryllis show at the United States department of agriculture.

Just Called Friends
If you ever had a friend worth while, you can't lose him, never fear. There are so many men who are merely casually called friends.

1650 Labor Hours
It takes 1,650 hours of labor a year to tend to a herd of ten dairy cows, Michigan State college dairy specialists say.

SELECTIVE SERVICE...

It has come to the attention of this Headquarters, the State Director said, that some married registrants, originally classified in 111-A, have subsequently been divorced but failed to report to their local boards this change of status which might alter their classifications. Men holding a 111-A or 111-B classification card must, therefore, be prepared at all times to justify such a classification, he added.

Any Selective Service registrant who holds a 11-A or 11-B classification with no expiration date showing on the card and who has held such a card for more than six months should immediately report to his local board for a review of this case. Men originally classified in 11-A or 11-B because of employment in a war industry, who have since left such employment without reporting the fact to their local boards may be considered delinquents, the State Director pointed out.

Every registrant under the Selective Service Law who has any reason to believe his records are not complete and accurate in the files of his local board must report to his local board either in person or by letter at once. Otherwise, if he remains delinquent, his case will be turned over to the United States Attorney for investigation and possible prosecution.

Former Teachers Help Out at Antioch High

Two former teachers who assisted with science classes at Antioch Township High school during the period between the time when Lewis Hack left to act as instructor in the armed forces, until Forrest P. Cook arrived to take over his classes, Dec. 1, are again "pinch-hitting" on the staff.

They are Mrs. Louise Martin of Libertyville, who is teaching biology, and Mrs. Robert Thomas of Gurnee, who is teaching mathematics. Principal Birkhead is teaching the chemistry classes.

Mrs. Martin is a graduate of the University of Missouri, where she also took additional work. Before her marriage she taught at Proviso Township High school and at Waukegan High school. Mrs. Thomas studied at Drury college, Springfield, Mo., and South Western Baptist college, Hattiesburg, Mo.

Cook, who came here from Anderson, Ind., has returned there to accept another position.

Bread...

FOR A WORLD AT WAR!

"The peaceful prairies of the Dakotas and Western Canada may seem a long way from the far flung battle fronts... yet they, too, are in the 'front lines', for from their fertile acres comes the wheat that is feeding not only our men, but our many allies as well.

This vast prairie country, long known as "the bread basket of the world", will begin the harvesting of another crop of golden grain before many months have gone by. Millions of bushels of this grain will be brought to the mills by the Soo Line—a railroad that many years ago was built to give an outlet to these unending acres.

Our first effort will be the transportation of all commodities pertaining to the war program. With your cooperation, we can do that, and at the same time take care of our civilian traffic with but slight inconvenience.

Victorious Russian Drive Sweeps On As German Army Faces New Threats; Political Situation in North Africa Inflamed by Peyrouton Appointment

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

MALTA.—After beating off Axis attacks, a convoy laden with the necessary shovels of war drops anchor in harbor at Malta. The Axis does everything possible to halt the stream of supplies pouring into this vitally important British island base, but the convoys are getting through. This photograph was made from on board an accompanying British six-inch gun cruiser which helped escort the ships through the Mediterranean.

INSPIRATION:

For the Russians

There were reports of later Russian successes following the breaking of the siege of Leningrad but that story carried more drama for the Russian people themselves than the reports of all the rest. For Leningrad is Russia's second city and it had been almost a year and a half since there had been any land communication between it and the rest of the country.

As the Red army battled to widen the five-mile corridor through which the siege was first broken there were dispatches from all along the 1,200-mile front reporting new losses for the Nazis. At all points the German lines were sagging before the newly found power of the Russians. Inspired by the news from Leningrad, named for their revolutionary leader and considered the home of the revolution itself, Red soldiers received a real boost to morale which aided in maintaining a high degree of momentum in their offensives.

Immediate objectives that loomed closer now were the Latvian border, southwest of Velikie Luki, Rostov on the lower Don, complete annihilation of the armies before Stalingrad and added progress in the direction of Kharkov, the Pittsburgh of the Ukraine.

NORTH AFRICA:

DeGaullists Object

New flames were ignited under the bubbling cauldron of political dissatisfaction in North Africa when Marcel Peyrouton, veteran French politician and former Vichy minister of the interior, was named governor general of Algeria.

The appointment rekindled the popular alarm which was felt when Darlan first took office. The Fighting French at once jumped on the appointment, terming Peyrouton a former Fascist sympathizer. Headquarters of the DeGaullist forces recalled that in April, 1941, Peyrouton said that "Only madmen believe in a British victory." The London Daily Herald called it a "political blunder of the first water. Peyrouton is distrusted by Frenchmen of all parties."

Added to this confusion was the fact that the Allies soon must decide on a supreme commander for the showdown with the Axis in North Africa. The decision probably will be hastened by the rapid telescoping of the Tunisian and Libyan fronts.

NEW LEADER:

For Democrats

While congress was huddling over Edward J. Flynn's qualifications to represent the United States and President Roosevelt in the South Pacific diplomatic front, Democratic party chieftains assembled in Chicago to select Postmaster General Frank C. Walker to be his successor as chairman of the Democratic national committee. In his acceptance speech Walker expressed a "distaste for oratory as a substitute for action" and further avowed that he was a "firm advocate of the two-party system."

NEW GUINEA:

Victory in Papua

Climaxing a series of attacking movements by American and Australian infantry units, Allied ground forces captured Sanananda Point and Sanananda Village on the northeastern coast of New Guinea.

The capture of Sanananda Point—between previously captured Gona and Buna—took the last remaining strong Japanese point in that area. The remaining Japs were left in pockets about a mile west of Sanananda, faced with nothing more than suicide action.

Aerial action saw Allied bombers sink a 6,000-ton Japanese cargo ship in the Bismarck sea and blast enemy airports and installations over a wide area of the Southwest Pacific.

Jap forces were cut into bits by Australian and American patrols reaching almost every corner of the swampy area. Japan's last remaining strength in Papua had been decimated. Enemy outposts were little more than handfuls of troops, waiting an almost certain end.

LIBYAN DRIVE:

Attack Tempo Increased

As aerial activity flared over a wide area of the Tripolitanian front the British eighth army continued its headlong assault against Field Marshal Rommel's fleeing but still intact forces.

An early British advance carried one of two attacking columns to within less than 50 miles of Tripoli—closer than Rommel came to Alexandria last summer.

Gen. B. L. Montgomery's most advanced column had driven Axis forces from Beni Uid and was in contact with the enemy near Tarhuna, only 40 miles southeast of Tripoli. The second British column drove along the coastal road, reaching a spot 90 miles east of Tripoli.

Even as the British pushed on, many observers were of the opinion that Rommel had decided or had been ordered, to forget Tripoli and attempt to get into Tunisia to join Cal. Gen. Juergen von Arnim in a stand against the Allied assault from both sides.

ARGENTINA:

Stands Alone

After Chile's senate had voted 30 to 10 to break off diplomatic ties with the Axis, Argentina remained the only American country retaining relations with Germany, Italy and Japan.

Chile's action came after weeks of wrangling over the issue and following the vote, Foreign Minister Joaquin Fernandez left immediately to notify President Juan Antonio Rios of the action. President Rios followed this with a radio broadcast to his people.

Chile's army and navy had earlier taken over control of strategic areas which had been colonized by the Germans. These were mostly in the southern part of the country and included ports, mining centers and other vital areas.

FARM LABOR:

And the Draft

In an effort designed to keep more workers on the nation's farms the War Relocation Commission has put into effect a broad liberalization of agricultural deferment requirements. Draft boards are now to be guided by a "new criteria" including liberalized application of the war unit production standard and the addition to the list of essential crops for which workers may be deferred.

Heretofore farmers have usually been required to be responsible for 10 "farm units." Now as few as eight "units" could result in holding off induction. (A unit, for example, is one dairy cow, or 20 acres of wheat, or 20 feed lot cattle, among other items deemed essential in the war food program.)

BIRTH-TO-GRAVE:

Social Security

President Roosevelt is scheduled to receive from the department of labor a greatly broadened—birth-to-grave—social security plan. This was revealed by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins at a New York Town Hall meeting. She said adoption of such a plan would provide larger benefits including greater old age pensions, payments for all employment interruptions and maternity and funeral benefits.

Premiums would increase progressively to an amount equal to 10 per cent of the worker's paycheck. During the first stages of the plan's operation these premiums would be paid jointly by the employer and employee, much like the present social security program. Then as the number of old age benefit recipients increased beyond the amount collected the government would step in to pay a share of the benefits.

POINT RATIONING:

System Explained

When Office of Price Administration officials began explaining the system of point rationing it became immediately evident that points will vie in importance with dollars and cents in the minds of the nation's housewives.

Here is how the system will work: The sale of processed foods in cans and bottles will be stopped in retail stores a week before the rationing begins—some time in February. This will allow grocers to fill their shelves. On registration day, housewives will take the family's No. 1 war ration books to their local boards and apply for book No. 2.

The consumer will have to declare the actual number of cans, bottles and jars of eight ounces or more of

RATION DATES

Feb. 7—Period 4 fuel-oil coupons, good to March 26, become valid.

Feb. 8—Final date on which No. 28 coffee coupon is valid.

Feb. 20—Expiration date for Period 3 fuel-oil coupons which became valid Dec. 23.

Feb. 28—Final date for first inspection of tires for "B" or "C" passenger car card holders and for commercial vehicles.

March 13—Period 5 fuel-oil coupons, good to Sept. 30, become valid.

March 31—Final date for first inspection of passenger car tires for "A" card holders and motorcycles.

the rationed foods on hand. Home canned foods are exempt. Each person will be allowed to have a certain number—probably between 8 and 12—on hand without penalty. For more than that, stamps will be removed. Each consumer will be allowed 48 points during each rationing period, which will probably be one month.

New War Poster

This dramatic poster depicting the enemy's ruthless intention, was entered in the national war poster competition conducted by the New Museum of Modern Art and was chosen as the best. Duane Breyers, artist, who drew the winning entry is currently awaiting induction into the army.

MORE ACTION:

Striking at Japanese shipping in the Pacific and Far East, U. S. submarines have sunk 112 enemy ships since Pearl Harbor. The latest communique issued on this subject by the navy department showed the sinking of one destroyer, one large cargo ship, one medium sized cargo ship and one small patrol vessel sunk to reach this 112 total. Twenty-two other ships are listed as probably sunk and 29 others are reported as "damaged."

FUN FOR YOUR FAMILY

By MISS ABBIE CONDIT

National Recreation Association

Everyone loves to sing Christmas carols and your family is no exception. Just hunt up those old song books that have been collecting dust under the piano, sent for years and give grandfather or little sister a chance to do some caroling. You'll see for yourself!

When you've all learned the lovely old songs well enough to become the nucleus for a song group, invite the next-door neighbors in and have a real carol fest. Then you can plan a progressive party, singing from house to house as they did in the Merrie England of Dickens' time.

But don't forget to learn the words to these songs. Most of us consider ourselves amateur experts when it comes to singing carols, but how many can sing the second verse of "Silent Night" or even the entire first verse of the old favorite, "O Little Town of Bethlehem"? If you don't have enough song sheets, make carbon copies of the stanzas and start to learn them now!

And while you're drilling the family on verses and choruses, they might like to know something about the interesting history of Christmas carols. Each one of these songs has a story of its own, a story to give our singing a new meaning.

Historians tell us that much of our Christmas caroling dates from 1223 when St. Francis of Assisi first set up a "manger" to help tell the story of the Christ Child to the unlettered people of Greccio in Italy.

The people of the village came to the church to see the wondrous "play" and poured out their hearts in the first carols. Many carols which have come down to us, however, are not religious hymns, but songs of joy and festivity which date from the early festival of Yule in Britain.

A trip to the nearest library to look up the story of the carols will be well worth your while. Perhaps each person in your family, club, or neighborhood group will want to take some special carol and learn its history. Then the next time you get together for singing, take out a few minutes and listen to these fascinating old tales.

If you're planning a Christmas party, the carols can become an important part of the entertainment. Have some of your better singers carry the solo parts and let everyone join in heartily for the choruses. The children and young folks will have fun dramatizing the stories of the carols. You'll be surprised at how much they can do with a few simple properties, some old clothes, and a little coaching.

Don't save your Christmas singing just for church services or school programs. All of us need the faith and courage which these timeless carols symbolize. They can be a source of comfort and hope to the many families who are drawn closer together by mutual sacrifice in these days of war. Who of us can help but feel new strength as we sing together "Silent night, holy night. All is calm, all is bright."

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

ELIGIBLE: Washington officials revealed that boys who have reached the age of 17 are eligible to enlist in the army enlisted reserve corps and air corps enlisted reserve—providing they have the consent of their parents. Not until they are 18, however, will the 17-year-old enlistees be called to active duty. Until this new ruling boys were not accepted in the army until they were 18.

PROBE: Among other subjects being reviewed by the new congress is the matter of war contracts and the house rules committee has decided to call before it high army and navy officials to explain why some such contracts were authorized. Those in question are contracts, which, it is charged by the house naval and military affairs committee, permitted huge fees and profits.

Foe Patents Go To U. S. Plants

50,000 Not to Be Sold but Licensed to Aid United Nations at War.

WASHINGTON.—It was announced from the White House recently that patents seized from enemy nationals or taken over from nationals of enemy-occupied countries, will not be sold, but will be made available on license to any legitimate manufacturer by the office of the alien property custodian.

More than 50,000 patents, aggregating hundreds of millions of dollars in value, will be vested in his office by the end of the year, Leo T. Crowley, alien property custodian, reported in a letter to President Roosevelt, giving a comprehensive report on patent activities.

The first consideration in making these patents available will be for war purposes of the United Nations, Mr. Crowley said, and the second for general use in the national interest.

To Be Listed at Once.

The patents, he said, represent "some of the finest research achievements of modern science, particularly in the production of dyestuffs, plastics, pharmaceuticals and electrical goods."

"We are publishing the patent applications at once so that interested parties may apply for licenses under them," Mr. Crowley said. "Publication of the knowledge contained in the applications will also assist and encourage research along similar lines in this country."

Mr. Crowley said that this was in line with the President's policy "to make these patents readily and freely available forever to American industry and to encourage the research necessary to develop these patents."

Licenses will be issued on application "to any legitimate business concern on a royalty-free non-exclusive basis for the life of the patent," at a fee of $50 plus an additional $5 for each additional patent covered by the license. No exclusive licenses will be issued.

Existing American rights will be respected pending further investigation, but the office reserves the right to issue additional licenses "if it appears that a broader use of the invention is essential to the war effort."

Plans Post-War Royalty.

"We feel a great measure of responsibility toward the nationals of enemy-occupied countries," Mr. Crowley said, stressing his conviction that "our friends in the occupied countries would have us turn their patent rights into an active weapon of warfare for the defeat of their oppressors."

Hence royalty-free non-exclusive licenses will be granted under these patents for the duration and six months, with a "reasonable royalty" to be charged "after the termination of the war emergency."

Existing royalty arrangements on such patents will be continued with the proceeds paid into the Custodian's office, and American firms already holding an exclusive royalty-paying license for an "occupied-country patent" will not be allowed to exchange it for a non-exclusive, royalty-free license.

Mr. Crowley disclosed that his office had classified lists of enemy and non-enemy patents in preparation and that every effort would be made to bring them to the attention of the small business man.

Nazis Exclude Italians

From Marrying Germans

STOCKHOLM, SWEDEN.—No matter how solidly they might unite Europe, the Nazis would not allow marriages between Germans and "lower" races—Italians not excluded—according to Professor Gross, head of the Nazi "Institute of Racial Policy."

"According to modern German racial science, all foreigners are 'unknown quantities,'" said the professor, who added that this was also true of Scandinavians. He particularly objected to the suggestion that "European military and economic unity" should influence "racial policy."

Suspected 'Bomb' Turns

Out Just Bag of Apples

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y.—Police were told a strange man had placed a paper bag in a tree as night fell. They rushed to the scene and found the bag—it contained hard, round objects, and this note was attached:

"Little grains of sand are piled one and a half miles north of Intercession."

The bomb squad was summoned and with great care opened the bag and found—apples.

Then they learned it was part of a treasure hunt.

American Airman Hikes 200 Miles in Jungle

CALCUTTA.—Capt. Wynn D. Miller of Columbia, Mo., has reached Calcutta after hiking 200 miles through the jungles of Burma to escape Japanese troops, into whose territory he had parachuted when his engine failed. Miller, a pursuit pilot, was escorting a flight of bombers on a raid on Japanese-held Mandalay on December 7.

"When I came out of the clouds all I could see below was dense jungle," he related. "I dropped through the trees without a scratch and landed flat on my back. I wasn't hurt a bit, and the greatest break of all was that I landed right on a trail leading to the Indian frontier."

Then began a hike that lasted for 16 days.

Million-Volt X-Ray to Find Defect in Metal

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—A giant million-volt industrial X-ray machine, capable of disclosing defects in thick metal castings in a matter of minutes, soon will be in operation at the University of Rochester.

The machine, described as one of the "most powerful in the world," is being installed with the cooperation of eight local industrial firms, which will share its facilities.

Robert E. Fredericksen, vice president of one of the collaborating firms, described the apparatus, which is housed in a special building of extra-thick concrete walls, as "completely shockproof." Heavy castings will be moved inside the X-ray room by a 10-ton overhead crane.

Alexander appeared in Eastern Washington district court and Judge Lewis B. Schwollenbach ordered him transferred to the Idaho district for trial.

See 'Plastics Age' As Just Dawning

Scientists Say 'You Ain't Seen Nothing Yet.'

NEW YORK.—Wizards in the world of substitutes predict that 1943 will be the beginning of the "plastics age."

And if you think you've looked through a lot of that transparent stuff, manufacturers say, "You ain't seen nothing yet."

Biggest single news item in the 860-page plastic catalogue for next year, a huge book not yet off the press, is a beer and beverage bottle cap. It will replace 140,000 tons of steel—enough to construct 45 Liberty ships.

The most hopeful experiment now in progress is an all-plastic automobile tire. Thousands of plastic parts go into modern day battleships.

Explaining the development of plastics and the overnight application of them to military, industrial and civilian use, Charles A. Breskin, publisher of Modern Plastics magazine and author of the new catalogue, said:

"The war has shifted the plastics industry around in such an amazing manner as to set the stage right now for the plastics age. A year ago plastics played an emergency role in substituting for and replacing the strategic metals and rubbers."

"The war job performed was so excellent, the conversions so numerous, that many plastics became critical materials, available only for war usage."

The "all-seeing" plastic-topped motor car of the future is already styled and ready, Breskin said. Plastic textiles used in drapes and curtains will resist dirt and grease, and plastic jar-top sealers will soon make housewives forget how the Japs bottled up the rubber industry.

Prospector Finds Lead Ore Mine in Hills of Colorado

Years of Poverty and Hard Work End When Rich Strike Is Made.

KREMMLING, COLO.—If the "Tex" McDaniel family ever should need money in a hurry, they can go down collar with a pick and dig out enough rich lead and zinc ore to meet the emergency.

The McDaniels knew years of poverty, hard work and disappointment before they found their rich mine five years ago. The strike meant so much, after the long lean years, that they built their log cabin home right over the mine tunnel. It's on top of the world, where the mine had put them.

In five years Walter ("Tex") McDaniel, his wife, Frances, and their four children have taken out about $100,000 worth of ore, with little outside help. They call the mine the big four, for the four kids.

With money in the bank and more where that came from, McDaniel and his wife were ready to take things easy. But they can't. The War Production board wants to expand their unique family-size mine into a three-shift 24-hour-a-day operation.

Winters Are Rough.

Because winter is rough at the mine, high on the side of Green mountain, Mr. and Mrs. McDaniel had quit working it for the season and were settled for a quiet winter in Kremmling, where their two youngest, Mory, 17, and John, 16, go to high school.

The WPB men found them there. He told them war factories must have every bit of lead and zinc that can be produced.

So McDaniel and his wife—who works, herself, inside the mine in pants, jacket and miner's helmet, are back at their cabin ready to work harder and faster than ever before.

The WPB is seeing to construction of an ore mill across the valley. It's arranging for more machinery and equipment. McDaniel has three miners now, and he wants to hire 20 more.

Mory and John are disappointed that they must stay in school and can't be at the mine. They both feel, says McDaniel, that they're better than any hired miners.

The older boys, Joseph, 21, and James, 19, are going to Colorado school of mines at Golden. Joseph, a sophomore, is going into the army air force. James is a freshman.

They Studied Well.

The McDaniels came from Texas to Colorado in 1927 and homesteaded north of Kremmling. They found ore outcroppings, and spent some of their small savings to have the samples assayed.

"We spent $4,000 trying to develop a mine there before we discovered the assays we'd had made were no good," McDaniel says.

"So we decided we would have to make assays ourselves. We got books and studied."

They studied well. They learned geology and metallurgy. They went out to Green Mountain, 16 miles south of Kremmling and there, in an area passed over by mining geologists as worthless, they uncovered the big four veins.

Before they found the mine, the McDaniels lived in a dugout home below Green mountain. They were too poor for their children to go to school. Mrs. McDaniel, a Texas school teacher before her marriage, was their instructor.

Two years ago they built their present home. It's a sturdy log cabin, with white-enameled kitchen and trim furnishings, clinging to the side of a precipitous cliff.

Mrs. McDaniel, a womanly housekeeper if she does wear a miner's clothes and can work like one, probably had a big hand in the decision to build the home right over the mine. She mothers it like she does her family.

"It's my life," she says, matter-of-factly. "I wouldn't be happy if I didn't keep my eye on the mine and the work inside."

Sweater Betrays Man

Accused of Intoxication

AKRON, OHIO.—A 48-year-old man stood before a municipal court judge recently awaiting sentence on charges of intoxication. A court reporter glanced at the back of the man's jacket. Stitched there were the letters "W. H."—letters that struck a familiar chord. The reporter shouted to the police prosecutor: "Hey, isn't that guy wearing a work-house jacket?"

The prosecutor looked, and gasped. Questioned, it developed the prisoner escaped from the work-house orchard while picking apples. He got 30 days instead of the customary $5 and costs.

MITCHELL, IND.—It was just a hungry burglar that entered Mrs. Wayne Chastain's home.

She reported to police the man bound her to a chair, gagged her securely and then helped himself to a meal from the family refrigerator.

Mrs. Chastain, freed by neighbors after the gourmet fed, said she was "too terrified" to obtain a description of the man.

WPA Lists Its Achievements

Tells of Contributions to Public Welfare Before Liquidation.

WASHINGTON.—The Works Progress administration, taking inventory before liquidating itself, cited a long list of achievements as evidence that it has made substantial contributions to the public welfare.

WPA and its predecessor relief agencies—Works Progress administration, Civil Works administration and the Federal Emergency Relief administration—together spent nearly $15,000,000,000 and probably have been subjected to more criticism than any other New Deal agencies.

But WPA officials, preparing to wind up the federal work relief program after more than 10 years of providing subsistence for millions of destitute Americans, said that the agencies had accomplished much more good than is generally realized, despite "boondoggling" and considerable admitted waste.

Proof Is Offered.

To prove their point about concrete contributions to the nation, they said the various work relief programs have produced the following:

643,977 miles of improvements on highways, roads and streets, including 566,322 miles of rural roads, 66,392 miles of urban streets and 11,263 miles of other roads, chiefly through parks.

77,053 bridges and viaducts built, with 45,705 others being reconstructed or improved.

34,056 public buildings, not including utility plants and buildings at airports. The agencies also reconstructed or improved 83,170 other public buildings.

5,832 educational buildings, mostly libraries and schools, 8,579 recreational buildings and 1,626 auditoriums and gymnasiums.

Many Public Institutions.

1,476 office and administration buildings, 202 hospitals, 172 penal institutions, 1,382 dormitories, 310 firehouses and 328 armories.

2,272 stadiums, grandstands and bleachers, 51 fairgrounds and rodeo grounds, 1,650 parks, 3,036 playgrounds, 2,080 athletic fields, 9,971 tennis courts, 791 swimming pools, 1,098 ice skating areas, 228 bandshells, 136 outdoor theaters, 249 golf courses.

Public utilities and sanitation projects, including 46 electric power plants, 132 incinerator plants, 1,298 pumping stations, 944 sewage treatment plants, 249 water treatment plants; water mains and distribution lines, reservoirs, storm and sanitary sewers, police, fire alarm and traffic signal systems, and electric power lines.

Hundreds of flood and erosion control, irrigation and conservation projects.

Airport and airway facilities, including 285 new landing fields, and 1,139 airport buildings.

$500 to Buy Fur Coat

BROCKTON, MASS.—Because she needs a fur coat, Virginia Farnsworth Waitt, daughter of Henry F. Waitt of Wayne, Maine, heir to a $600,000 fortune tied up in a "spend-thrift fund," was granted an additional $500, to the $1,500 yearly educational expense decreed in court settlement of a bitter contest over the fortune.

The girl, now 19 and attending college, was awarded the education allowance and $100 monthly for living expenses by Judge Harry K. Stone.

Want to Buy a Jail?

Here's a Real Bargain

EXETER, N. H.—Mrs. Alice M. Scott of this town has a jail to sell and "a nice one at that." Any person so inclined can double in this bit of real estate and pick up this nice comfortable jail with eight large cells and quaint barred windows.

But so far there have been no takers.

Mrs. Scott inherited the jail, but she has no immediate use for it and would like to sell it to somebody who would appreciate its good points.

Coffee Shortage Becomes

Real Problem in Greece

NEW YORK.—Worried about the coffee shortage? You don't know the half of it.

According to New York officials of the Greek war relief association, a Greek laborer would have to work 188 days, or more than six months, to earn enough money to buy one pound of coffee, which costs the equivalent of $190 on the Black market.

U. S. Seaman Says Jap

Sailors Refused Rescue

WALLINGTON, N. J.—Seaman William Stachula of Wallington said that Japanese sailors who were floating on rafts after a recent Solomon Island engagement declined rescue offers.

"Togo say no," was their answer, Stachula said.

His destroyer, part of the invasion fleet which covered the landing of marines, was battered, he said, but he was not hurt.

Most Grasshoppers Are Harmless. Of 130 species of grasshoppers, only five or six are known to do any serious damage to crops. About a dozen more injure grasses on the range to some extent, but the rest of them are of little economic importance.

Sawdust and Sugar. Sugar from sawdust and the transformation of ordinary fish oil into perfumed toilet soaps are two possibilities engaging the attention of scientists.

News of the Boys . . .

was taken at the beginning of this week. The three of us were together over the week-end, Ed Dunford and I are in the same apartment house. That is quite a coincidence, isn't it?

Ed and I wish to express our gratitude for receiving the Antioch News. We are surprised you have so much snow there. We haven't seen any all season. Ed, Allen and I wish to say hello to all of our friends back home and in the service.

Until our next letter we all say good-bye.

One of the home town boys, Lloyd N. Drom.

Jan. 21, 1943, Camp Kohler

Dear Sir:

I wish to thank you very much for giving me the pleasure of reading the Antioch News. It sure helps to take up those moments when things are blue. I get a great kick out of reading it and never skip a page. It takes a fellow right back home for a short visit and after you get through a fellow feels 100% better. Sort of a cure-all, I call it.

Thanking you again, I remain, Pvt. Henry Quendenfeld Co. C, 5th Battalion S. C. R. T. C. Bar 14-26 Camp Kohler, Sacramento, California

From Eugene Dietz:

Dear Sir:

Was sure glad to get your little paper. It is full of news and very interesting. I don't know who told you my address, but I'm glad some one did. I'm in a heavy weapons company, the No. 3 gunner on an 81 mm mortar. It is very interesting work, and I like it. We are leaving for maneuvers this Tuesday morning, so my new address will be:

Pvt. Gene Dietz (36703358) Co. H, 359th Inf., A. P. O. 90, care Postmaster, Shreveport, La.

I only worked in your town three months but met a lot of nice people and made a number of good friends. You probably know I worked at Blum's Tavern.

Thanks for the paper.

Pvt. Gene Dietz.

Pfc. Marvin Keith Hunt, a Lake Villa boy now in service has a slight change of address, from A. P. O. 502, to A. P. O. 709. He writes to his parents that he had been receiving the News.
